FOREWORD

We are proud to present that the latest issue of the Squalen Bulletin of Marine and Fisheries Postharvest and Biotechnology has been published.

Squalen Bulletin Volume 16 (1), May 2021, features four original research articles and one review article on the area of marine and fisheries post-harvest and biotechnology, i.e., Optimization of Chitosan Concentration on the Quality and Shelf Life of Frozen Rohu (Labeo rohita) Fillets; The Effects of Garlic Oil and Tartaric Acid on the Quality of Shrimp Stored at 4°C; Heat Resistance of Probiotic Candidate Enterococcus faecalis R22B in Different Matrices; Occurrence and Source Apportionment of Polycyclic Aromatic Hydrocarbons (PAHs) in Green Mussel (Perna viridis) from Cilincing Waters of Jakarta Bay, Indonesia; Bioactive Compounds, Cosmeceutical And Nutraceutical Applications of Green Seaweed Species (Chlorophyta).

This year, Squalen Bulletin has launched a new feature, "Article in Press" to accelerate the publication process. Article in Press is allocated to corrected proofs that have not been assigned to specific issues or volumes. Between March and April 2021, Squalen Bulletin has published three articles in press that can be cited using the DOI and the publication year.

We have also updated the article layout, design and cover image of the latest edition that adopt contemporary and elegant style.

On behalf of the editorial board, we would like to express our profound gratitude to the reviewers for insightful comments and constructive criticisms towards the published articles despite the uncertain times resulting from the current pandemic.

We hope these articles will be helpful for the readers and, in return, stimulate further studies on marine and fisheries post-harvest and biotechnology. Thank you for your continuing interest in our publication.

2. Language: English. It is preferable that manuscripts are professionally edited. The abbreviated name or expression should be cited in full at first usage, followed by the accepted abbreviation in parentheses. Metric SI units should generally be used. Chemical formulas and solutions must specify the form used, e.g. anhydrous or hydrated and the concentration must be in clearly defined units. Common species names should be followed by the Latin binomial (Italic) at the first mention.
3. Manuscript: should be prepared max. 15 pages, double-spaced (except for title, tables, figures, and bibliography which is prepared in single-spaced) in Microsoft Word on A4 paper, font (Arial 10).
